Once you have signed up for the service, we will distribute your press article through all the relevant industry web-sites we cover. Your article will then be indexed through all of the on-line search engines, as well as being accessible to our readership.

Getting Noticed:

Our web-sites work in-tune with Google and all other major search engines, meaning any release would be indexed immediately, giving every article we release enhanced exposure.

Extras:

- Your press article will not only be released through the web-site alone, but will be streamed through all of the Social Bookmarking sites, such as LinkedIn, Facebook, Twitter, Digg, Delicious, etc
 - Your article is released through our on-line blog, which is mirrored using the same technology as the CNN Blogs. This ensures your press is sent out to the entire 40 million blogging community on the internet by keywords.
